

ND Philosophy

Volume: 2
Issue: 2
Date: 2.15.17

News

• Rising Scholar Award

Therese Cory is analyzing theories crafted hundreds of years ago about how people interact with their surroundings. She wants to understand more about the original theories and whether they've been interpreted correctly over time. Full story here.

• Philosophy baby!

Congratulations to Prof. Teh on his new baby girl! Dorothea Rose Xinqi Teh was born on January 15th at 6lbs 11oz!

• T-shirt voting!!

Please click here to vote on a style of t-shirt that you like. The winning t-shirt will be available for sale soon.

• March Madness

This is your reminder to look for and SIGN UP for our bracket challenge.

Professor Spotlight

Meghan Sullivan is the Rev. John A. O'Brien Collegiate Associate Professor of Philosophy at the University of Notre Dame. Her areas of research interest include metaphysics, philosophical logic, and philosophy of religion. More information can be found at Meghan Sullivan's faculty page, or at God and the Good Life.

Time Bias - Notre Dame Associate Professor Meghan Sullivan ➔

Announcements

Grad CFP

Undergrad CPF

Seminars

Jobs

Summer

Happenings

- There is a graduate student social on Thursday, February 16th from 4:00-6:00pm in 211 Brownson Hall. See flyer in the Malloy lounge
- “Food for Thought” Should we believe what we don’t understand? The center for Philosophy of Religion is hosting a free catered dinner and discussion with Dr. Lorraine Juliano Keller on February 21st at 6:30pm in teh CoMo first floor lounge.
- MAP presents: Andrew Moon “Is it Ever Okay to Make Stereotypes?” Friday, February 24th 12:00-1:00pm in 100 O’Shag. Bring your lunch!

Up and Coming

Friday, February 17th

Ben Bradley (Syracuse) 3-5pm 129 DeBartolo (reception to follow in Malloy)

February 17-19

Junior Parent’s Weekend

Friday, February 24th

MAP event: Andrew Moon 12-1pm 110 O’Shag-brown bag lunch

Luis Oliverira (UMass-Amhurst) 3-5pm 129 DeBartolo (reception to follow in Malloy)

Monday, February 27th

Errol Lord (Pennsylvania) 3:30-5pm 141 DeBartolo (reception to follow in Malloy)

March 1st-4th

Central Division Meeting-Kansas City

March 11th-19th

Spring Break